

SAMACHIFY

FROM FARM TO PAN

Region-specific fresh meal ingredient packs – preserving the authentic Tamil home-cooked flavor.

- VISION : To redefine traditional Indian cooking by blending freshness, convenience, and authenticity – making nutritious home-cooked food accessible to every household.
- MISSION : To simplify the cooking experience through fresh, pre-cut, and hygienically packed vegetable kits – sourced responsibly from local farmers, crafted with care, and delivered with freshness.

Market Problem

- Urban households lack time for daily vegetable preparation
- Inconsistent quality, hygiene concerns, and wastage from traditional buying
- Rising dependence on food delivery instead of home cooking
- No strong brand owning the “dish-specific fresh prep” category

Target Customer Segments

SAMACHIFY
FROM FARM TO PAN

- Urban working professionals (22–45 years)
- Nuclear families with dual income
- Students & bachelors who cook occasionally
- Small restaurants & cloud kitchens (B2B repeat demand)
- Focus: Tier-1 & Tier-2 cities, starting with South India

Market Size (India) (Conservative)

SAMACHIFY
FROM FARM TO PAN

- TAM (Total Addressable Market):
Indian fresh vegetables market  $\approx$  ₹3–4 lakh crore
- SAM (Serviceable Available Market):
Urban packaged & convenience food users  $\approx$  ₹25,000+ crore
- SOM (Serviceable Obtainable Market):
Initial regional capture (South India D2C + retail): ₹50–100 crore opportunity

Market Trends Supporting Samachify

- Growth in ready-to-cook & convenience foods
- Rising health-conscious home cooking
- Increase in subscription-based grocery models
- Higher willingness to pay for freshness + time-saving

Competitive Landscape

Indirect Competitors

- Traditional vegetable vendors
- Supermarket pre-cut vegetables
- Grocery delivery apps (Blinkit, Zepto, BigBasket)

Direct Gap

- No strong player offering dish-specific veg packs
- Existing players focus on ingredients, not meals

Competitive Advantage

SAMACHIFY
FROM FARM TO PAN

- Dish-based vegetable combinations
(no thinking for customers)
- Reduced wastage through subscription predictability
- Fresh sourcing with standardized prep
- Faster adoption than full meal kits
(lower friction)

Go-To-Market Strategy

SAMACHIFY
FROM FARM TO PAN

Phase 1: Local retail + D2C pilot (Chennai)

Phase 2: Subscriptions & repeat customers

Phase 3: Regional expansion + B2B tie-ups

Phase 4: Brand-led scale

Why Now?

SAMACHIFY
FROM FARM TO PAN

- Consumers are overloaded with choices
- Time scarcity is increasing
- Fresh food convenience is still under-branded
- Early mover advantage in a clear niche
